DETAILED ACTION

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on September 2, 2005, has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

4. Claims 5-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Talieh (6,676,822) combined with Ashjaee et al (6,482,307) and Kunisawa et al (6,632,335).

5. Ashjaee et al and Kunisawa et al are applied as in the previous office action. Applicant has amended independent claim 5 to recite that the liquid impregnation material comprises a porous ceramic.

6. The Kunisawa et al patent is directed to a method and apparatus for plating on semiconductor wafers. Kunisawa et al discloses the use of a plating liquid impregnation material 110 which has both function of retaining liquid and passing liquid therethrough. The material may be made of a woven fabric or a porous ceramic such as alumina or silicon carbide (column 19, lines 44-60).

7. The prior art of record is indicative of the level of skill of one of ordinary skill in the art. It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to have provided a gap between pad 32 and the wafer of Talieh as taught by Ashjaee et al because plating without polishing addition to plating and polishing would have been performed and to have utilized c. It would have additionally been obvious in the process of Ashjaee et al to have provided a pad and anode larger than the wafer as taught by Talieh because more uniform deposition would have been obtained as the wafer and pad are moved relative to each other, and to have utilized Kunisawa et al

8. With respect to newly presented claim 9, Kunisawa et al disclose that a suitable gap size is 0.5-3.0 mm. See column 20, line 26. With respect to newly presented claims 10-12,

Art Unit: 1742

Kunisawa et al discloses a single apparatus in which the wafers are rinsed after completing treatment, washed, and dried. See column 23, lines 14-39.
